COUNCIL UPDATES

sanctuary

The Sacramento City Council voted unanimously to declare the California capital a “sanctuary city for transgender people.”

It ensures that no city resources will be used to criminalize trans people seeking transition-related care or to cooperate with jurisdictions seeking to enforce laws that criminalize the care elsewhere.

DRAFT LGBTQ+ HISTORY PROJECT CONTEXT STATEMENT

SUMBIT COMMENTS JUNE 26TH @ 5:30 PM CITY HALL

The historic context statement is a planning tool used to identify buildings, sites, and landscapes for their association with the LGBTQ+ community in Sacramento.

The City's Historic Preservation office uses this document to support listing buildings on the Sacramento Register of Historic and Cultural Resources, create placemaking opportunities, and educate the public about this important history

From UR Artists in Residence

This fall, Mindy's Kitchen of California in partnership with Your Yoni Retreat, is going on a tasting tour to advance the conversation around food justice, health equity, and holistic wellness for food desert communities.

"UNAPOLOGETIC MEANS TO SHOW UP EXACTLY WHO YOU ARE AT ALL TIMES, WITHOUT NEEDING TO CODE SWITCH, WITHOUT FEELING THE NEED TO SUPPRESS ANYTHING ABOUT YOUR IDENTITY."

-MELISSA MUGANZO

GROWING UP IN A CONSERVATIVE AREA IN KANSAS, I ALWAYS STRUGGLED TO VALIDATE MYSELF AS BISEXUAL, QUEER, AND GREY-GENDERED: ONLY THROUGH LOVE AND PERSONAL GROWTH HAVE I COME TO REALIZE THAT THE CONTENT OF MY HEART AND THE INTEGRITY OF MY ACTIONS ARE FAR MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE GENDER OF WHO I CHOOSE TO LOVE.

Mindy's Kitchen of California is a Black-owned/Queer-owned plant-based food company that specializes in offering nutritious foods that cater to allergen-sensitive diets.

The company was created and founded by Melissa Muganzo, who suffered from a severe food allergy that went unanswered by medical professionals after seeking out help.

Melissa Muganzo used her platform and agency to turn a severe health challenge into a community love offering that provides a voice to other who also suffer with unseen health and medical challenges.
